

Dear Client:

In our Fall QuickNews, we would like to draw your attention to how WordExpress can help you meet your deadlines with high-quality language services...

Today's Topic: Your Deadline is Our Deadline!

by Nick Scheiner, from our Marketing Department

In today's fast-paced business world, reaching your deadline goals for your language projects is of utmost importance. It is therefore essential to choose a language bureau that works within your timeframe and meets your deadlines, without ever neglecting the top-quality performance you should expect.

Here at WordExpress we understand that, even though you may require a quick turnaround, you won't settle for anything less than the best -- and neither will we. We pride ourselves on our 13-year history of producing effective, high-quality translations within the timeframes required by our clients. Our pool of over 10,000 qualified linguists allows us the flexibility necessary to render accurate translations in any language, and within virtually any time constraints. No matter what type of translation you require, or in what language, we have the resources to get the job done, whenever and however you need it!

With large projects that need to be completed within especially short timeframes, it may be necessary to split up the document(s) to be translated and select multiple translators to work on them simultaneously. If a project is not managed professionally, this approach could lead to terminological inconsistencies and/or stylistic differences. At WordExpress we tackle these challenges by placing a senior language expert in charge of the entire project. A glossary is established before work begins, and the separate translations are carefully examined thereafter. All necessary changes are implemented to achieve terminological and stylistic consistency before the separate translations are combined into a single final product.

Whatever your project may be, and whatever your time constraint, WordExpress is capable of providing the high-quality language services you need to achieve results. And, regardless of how quickly a project must be completed, you'll never have to sacrifice quality for speed when working with WordExpress. We understand that meeting deadlines is of crucial importance to your success, which is why at WordExpress "your deadline is our deadline"!

WordExpress is in compliance with the stringent quality standards of ISO 9001/2000.
Our quality control processes are unmatched in thoroughness -- our goal is always perfection.
